Kayla My birthday has always been a very special occasion. I usually spend it with my family. We have dinner together. My mum usually cooks lasagne, one of my favourite dishes. After dinner I open the presents and then we play games. I've always enjoyed that, but this year I'd like to do something different. I'm not 100% sure what I'll do, but I think I'll celebrate it with my friends. We'll probably go to a pizza place, I know one where they make fantastic pizzas. And then we'll probably go to a disco. One thing won't change: presents! I hope to get lots of them!

FASHION TRIBES

Goths think it's cool to dress in black. They dye their hair and wear spooky jewellery, such as bat bracelets and skull necklaces. The girls wear pale make up, black lipstick, and dark eye shadow.

Skaters adore extremely loose clothes that look as if they're two sizes too big. Their idea of trendy is baggy pants or shorts and hooded tops.

Preps spend a lot of money on their appearance. They get excited about expensive, brand-name clothes. Boys usually wear khaki trousers or nice jeans and polo shirts. Girls wear cardigans and loafer shoes.

Host Welcome to It's Happened To Me. Today we're talking about money. If you have an interesting story, phone us. Here's our first caller. Jake from Manchester. What's your story Jake?

Jake It happened last week. I was running in the park. I always go for a run early in the morning. Well, I was running when I saw a wallet. I picked it up and looked inside. There was a lot of money in it: five hundred pounds. And there was a card. It said: if you find it please call ... and a number on it.

Host So what did you do then?

Jake I called the number. A man answered the phone and I told him I had his wallet.

Host And then? What happened?

Jake I was talking to the man, when I saw a group of people. They had a big TV camera and were walking towards me...They were filming a programme, you know Put You To The Test.

Host Yes, I know it. It's a very popular programme.

Jake Well, they were putting me to the test, they wanted to see what I did with the money.

Host And ...

Jake Well, I'm an honest guy, I called to give the money back so ... I won the 500 pounds and I'm on TV tomorrow night!

Host Well done, Jake!

Last week Jake was running in the park when he saw a wallet. He picked it up and looked inside. There were 500 pounds in it and a card with a telephone number. Jake called the number: a man answered the phone and he told him he had his wallet. While he was talking to the man, he saw a group of people. They had a big TV camera and were walking towards him. They were filming a TV programme, called Put You To The Test. They were putting Jake to the test, they wanted to see if he was honest. Jake won the money and he's on TV tomorrow night!

Grade 6 Unit 4 Exercise 8 (Track 38)

Do something funny for money!

Red Nose Day happens every two years. People all over Britain wear red noses and do silly things to raise lots of money for charity. It started in 1985 and since then it has raised over 300 million pounds. You can help in different ways. You can buy a red nose: it costs one pound and 70 p goes to charity. Or you can ask people to sponsor you to do silly things, for example stay silent for the day, dye your hair bright red or take part in fun runs. All the money goes to people in need – to poor and disadvantaged children in Britain and Africa. Around one-third is given to projects in the UK and around two-thirds goes to projects in Africa. So Red Nose Day is comical but very serious.

Two years (not three) – in 1985 (not in 1995) – 300 million pounds (not euros) – 70 p (not 80 p) – bright red (not bright yellow) – in Britain (not in England)

Head teacher Rules and regulations are important in our school. We ask all students to read them carefully and observe them. Let me give you some examples. Students can use mobile phones before or after school and during breaks but they mustn't use them in class or when they move between classes. They mustn't use them in the library at any time. When students are in the IT lab they mustn't download games or use chat rooms. We also have rules about eating and drinking: students can eat and drink in the dining room and in the playground. They are the only areas where they can do it. Students can wear trainers when they do sports, but they mustn't wear them in the classroom. When they leave or enter the school during teaching time they must use the front entrance, not the back entrance.

Girl I arrived at Sunhill two years ago. It's a very alternative school. Things are different. For example we don't have to wear a school uniform. We don't have to sleep at school, but some students do because they like it or because they come from a different country or don't live nearby. People often think that we never go to lessons, but this isn't true. Of course, we have a timetable and lessons, but we don't have to attend them every day. The school offers traditional subjects, but they are all optional, we can choose the subjects we like. We also have to work on group projects. This is very important. And we need to take the standard exams: no alternative exams I'm afraid!

Francine I can speak three languages: Italian, English and French. My favourite language is Italian. I started studying it four years ago at school. I think it's a wonderful language. I can speak it quite well, but I want to improve it, so I might do a language course this summer, maybe in Florence. In two years' time, when I finish school, I might carry on studying it at university.

Aaron I can speak two languages, Swedish and English. I've studied English for five years. I think it's an easy language, certainly it's easier than Swedish or so everybody says. I speak English quite well, but I think it's important to spend some time in a country where they speak the language, so in a year's time, I might look for a job in the USA, maybe just for a couple of months. And when I come back I might start studying Chinese. I think it's the language of the future.
